

Simona PELLEGRINI CV

Simona Pellegrini, is currently CEO and co-founder of INVENIO SRL

Education: technician with skills in the sector of sustainable agricultural production, and law degree.

Experience and skills: for about 25 years you have been carrying out all-round consultancy activities for companies in the agricultural sector, gaining extensive experience in this task and knowledge of issues related to eco-sustainability in the agricultural world. Three years ago she founded, together with her colleague Annalisa Gaimarri, the startup INVENIO SRL, with the aim of giving life to an ambitious project, that is to become the reference partner for companies in the industrial sector to which they can propose innovative and high-performance solutions thanks to the creation of nanofiber materials and components through the electrospinning process