

Stella PLAZZOTTA - CV

Stella Plazzotta, got the PhD degree in “Food and Human Health” in 2019 with the thesis “Technological strategies for the sustainable valorization of fruit and vegetable wastes”. She is currently assistant professor at the University of Udine. She is author of 31 papers in international journals; 5 chapters in books; 1 patent.

Current research activities focus on developing sustainable highly porous materials with tailored food-related functionalities.