

Daniela ROSSIN – CV

Highly dedicated and experienced Postdoctoral Fellow with a Molecular and Cellular Biology, General Pathology and Pathophysiology backgrounds. Over the course of my academic and research career, significant contributions to the fields of stem cell biology, cardiovascular diseases, intestinal diseases, and cancer have been made. Research activity has spanned multiple projects, yielding valuable insights into various aspects of human health. Skills in various laboratory techniques, from molecular biology and protein purification to immunofluorescence and histological analyses.